

The Stangs “American Session”

This Indie-Rock band “The Stangs” is from Pembrokeshire in Western Wales. Their EP called “American Sessions” will be released song by song over the summer. The music is rough like most rock but has a brilliant sound that has a classic rock vibe.

The Stangs

They were formed in 2015, they have played many live shows in the UK and have hit Spotify making a name for themselves on the web. Graeme Heath is on vocals, Josh Lomas is bass and Glenn Alcock is drums making up the three person rock band.

Michael Baker is the producer of this band, he found them during a show at London’s The Troubadour, the band was then invited to do a recording session in New Jersey, starting the journey of their EP “American Sessions.”

My favorite song on this EP is "She's A Stranger" it has a different sound than the rest of the EP and I defiantly have a special place in my heart for this song. I like the song because you can easily relate because we all have had that feeling with someone we just met and thought we liked, but, they were a stranger. This song encapture's it all, the feeling of meeting someone for the first time but having the feeling you like them but "for all I know she could be a heartbreaker."

I will be on the lookout for more songs from this band. The songs have me interested to see where they go and what comes next!
