Thor Ragnarok A Review

Thor: Ragnarok was, in my opinion, one of the BEST Marvel films I have seen to date, with the comedy relief to the action-packed film and the characters it is amazing. I laughed through the film and I even cried once over my dear Loki; happy tears of course or plain laughing too hard over his shenanigans.

My favorite films were Iron Man (and Deadpool...Deadpool is my adult favorite), but this film had a bit better comedy than Iron Man I would like to say and I liked it more. I wasn't really a fan of Thor when it first came out but boy did Ragnarok kick ass.

I know people were upset over Chris Hemsworth cutting his hair but boy was the scene worth it and NO WAY IN ODIN'S NAME am I going to spoil it but trust me it is worth it, you will indeed laugh over it. I think Loki was actually surprised over the haircut also.

We also meet some new characters with an interesting character development and background and how they meet our heroes. It is a she and she is kick ass and I love her. We also re-unite with The Hulk and you see the dilemma's he has been facing since we last saw him in Avengers: Age of Ultron. I won't say much because there would be spoilers and I don't want to spoil this either.

All in all, I loved this movie and would recommend it to any Marvel or anyone seeking out a good movie. Thor: Ragnarok is a wonderful film for everyone in the family and should be seen!

Anyways, go see the movie. It's amazing. Odin commands you.
